MEETING ROOM POLICY

I. PURPOSE

Waukesha Public Library encourages the use of its meeting and study rooms by the public when use does not interfere with the normal function of the Library and Library programs and when the use conforms to the guidelines of this policy. Use of Library Meeting Rooms is subject to policies established by the Waukesha Public Library Board of Trustees. Meeting rooms are available to the public free of charge.

The Library Board subscribes to the tenets of the Library Bill of Rights, which states in part, "Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use."

Use of the Library Meeting Rooms does not constitute an endorsement of the views of the user of the room by the Library.

The Library has three types of Meeting Rooms available for the public:

1. Community Rooms

Community Rooms are defined as WPL's larger spaces that hold more than 20 people and where setup can be altered. Community Rooms are available for use by organizations including non-profits, community and neighborhood groups, organizations for the public good, educational, and cultural institutions, benevolent organizations, and government agencies. The room may not be used by organizations for commercial purposes or for private social events for individuals. A minimum number of attendees is required. Community Rooms can be used for:

Programs: Programs held in library spaces must be for an educational, cultural, civic, intellectual, community service, or charitable purpose. Programs must be free and open to the public. Anyone requesting admittance to the program must be allowed to attend free of charge.

Meetings: Meetings with a restricted invitation list may be held in Library Community Rooms. Examples include board or administration meetings, organization meetings, large book clubs and neighborhood watch group gatherings.

2. Conference Rooms

Four Conference Rooms are located on the first floor of the Library and are meant for small groups up to 20 people. These rooms can be reserved and are intended for public use by community organizations needing a space for organizational, educational, and other meetings.
